SENATOR GOFF

Makes a Speech Which Results in Passage of Bill by the Senate.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—It was characteristic of Senator Goff that his first speech in the Senate should have been made practically in behalf of a fellow townsman whose politics differs from his own.

His speech was for the bill to create a judgeship in the Fourth circuit and he told the Senate that after an experience of more than twenty years on the bench in that circuit he knew it needed an additional judge, and one who is familiar with the kind of practice the court must deal with. It was largely due to Judge Goff's efforts that the bill passed the Senate. If it passes the House it will mean the appointment of John W. Davis, of Clarksburg, to the federal bench. It is expected the House will pass the bill as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way.

THE CITY WATER TODAY

Subjoined is today's official report of the condition of the city water, in connection with which the city water works and sewerage board authorizes the following statement:

enn warning and probably prove effective, but if not, then as a last resort force should be used. This plan seems the easiest and speediest mode of attaining international peace.

"Recently world peace was upon the eve of victory. A treaty of peace was signed by Britain, France and our government which would have prevented war between civilized powers, because Germany would have joined us, as its ambassador intimated. A joint remonstrance against war by these four powers would have given any powers threatening war just a gentle intimation that they were expected to follow the example of those who had abolished war and who had interests in the preservation of peace, which could not be and would not be overlooked, and peaceful adjustment would be certain.

Thunder Made.
"Why this treaty failed to receive the support of the Senate need not be here dwelt upon. Suffice it to say the fault was not altogether that of the Senate—sometimes a blunder is said to be worse than a crime. Well, someone blundered. Looking backward, the error is now clearly seen, and we venture to predict that the present administration will deal successfully with this vital question.

"This sole remaining task accomplished, it will rank highest of all services ever performed by man to man, because its influence will be world wide and the president will take rank above all men as the greatest world benefactor who has ever lived; because he will have laid the axe to the root of the tree and banished man-killing from the civilized world. All the good done by any or all reformers pales into insignificance compared with the banishment of this appalling crime of crimes. The president has stood and still stands absolutely for international peace under the reign of law.

SOCIAL

Brilliant Reception.

May blossoms and spring flowers were used in great profusion this afternoon at a large and handsomely appointed reception given by Mrs. William F. Gaylord in her home on East Main street from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The dining room where the guests were received by the hostess and Miss Fannie Harrison, of Weston, and Miss Blanche Maxwell, pink Killarney roses and smilax obtained. In the reception hall fruit punch was refreshingly served by Mrs. W. Brent Maxwell. May blossoms were used in great profusion for decorations with tall palms and ferns.

Behind an archway of greenery the Cadenza orchestra rendered a delightful program of music and song all during the hours of the reception. The decorations in the dining room were most brilliant in gold and green. A miniature may pole of garlands of smilax studded with clusters of yellow marguerites, augmented by bows of chiffon formed a typical centerpiece for the attractive table where iced were served, appropriately moulded in miniature design of fruit and flowers. Mrs. Robert Haynes and Mrs. Hugh Jarvis presided assisted by Miss Gaylord, Miss Haymaker and Miss Genevieve Harrison.

Coffee was poured by Mrs. Haymond Maxwell from an attractive table which had for its decorations Richmond roses and smilax. Mrs. Maxwell was assisted by Miss Ruth Maxwell, Miss Alice Gaylord, and Miss Mary Hart.

The aides through the rooms were Miss Edna Haymaker, Miss Christine Haynes and Miss Virginia Gaylord. About 135 guests called during the hours of the reception.

Aid Society Entertained.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Adamston Methodist Episcopal church was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Frankie on Church street, Adamston, yesterday afternoon. After the devotional session, the business of the society was
